Welcome to the 2024-2025 CFA Members' Handbook

In this ever-evolving construction landscape, the support provided by the CFA is invaluable and CFA members are therefore understandably in demand

As we enter a new political era, it is encouraging to receive feedback from CFA members that they are busy and have plenty of enquiries. Our members have an advantage, being widely recognised as part of a quality supply chain. In this ever-evolving construction landscape, the support provided by the CFA is invaluable and CFA members are therefore understandably in demand.

The pace of change in business is perhaps quicker now than ever it has been, driven by the need to complete our transition post Brexit, work towards net zero, a circular economy, higher productivity and lower cost, whilst still maintaining quality. Commercial flooring is no exception, and we are witnessing significant developments in sustainability practices, underfloor heating, site conditions, installation techniques and product innovation.

These changes are reflected in evolving standards and developing legislation. The competency of businesses offering specialist contracting services, as well as those they employ as fitters, remains a critical focus in light of the Grenfell report and the updated Building Safety Act. At the CFA, we provide solutions and updates to our members in all these crucial business areas.

This directory offers a unique opportunity for you to explore collaboration possibilities and build long-term relationships. Our association's members serve as a valuable resource and quality supply chain for specifiers seeking partnerships or expert advice on specific flooring challenges. By connecting with our members, you can tap into a wealth of industry knowledge and experience that will enhance your professional input and ensure the successful delivery of your projects.

Together, we can navigate the challenges and opportunities of our dynamic sector.

Why choose a CFA member to install your flooring?

Flooring is a major aspect of most construction contracts and with advances in technology, changes in trends and more products to choose from than ever before, choosing the right installer has never been so important.

Specifiers and main contractors require a high level of service, installation and support which CFA members can provide. As a result, many public and private organisations and an increasing number of local authorities specify the use of CFA members.

OBJECTIVES OF THE CFA

The CFA aims to support its members in developing sustainable and highly productive businesses that supply and install commercial floor coverings. We achieve this by providing essential business services and expert information that promote industry standards, professionalism, quality, safety, and training. We provide members and their clients with a wealth of advice to assist with installation including:

- British Standard Institute (BSi) Codes of Practice
- Employment Law
- Health and Safety
- Insurance
- Technical Support
- Training
- CFA Guide to Contract Flooring

All members pass the CFA membership vetting process and are established, quality companies offering high standards of installation. Through the CFA they all have access to up-to-date Technical, Environmental and Quality Standards and all adhere to the Contractors' Code of Conduct.

CFA MEMBERS:

- Are fully vetted
- Have a proven track record
- Experience fewer floor failures
- Are part of a quality supply chain
- Can offer professional advice
- Offer better long-term flooring performance

TESTIMONIALS: Members tell us their experiences of being a CFA member and what it means to them.

CONTRACTORS

At Horizon Floors Ltd, we are proud to be active members of the leading independent trade association and professional voice of the contract flooring industry which is the CFA. Our membership allows us to enjoy access to up-to-date technical, environmental, quality Standards, Codes of Conduct and industry best practices. We believe the best way to move the industry forward is to commit to do it together.

John O'Hara
Commercial Director, Horizon Floors Ltd

We at J&S have had first-hand experience of the benefits of our membership with the CFA. We were contacted by a new client who was looking for a local contractor to undertake a housing refurbishment. As such we secured and successfully carried out a project of around 50k. With CFA backing we feel more confident to tackle the increasingly difficult construction industry as we can feed off the many useful guidelines and information documents the CFA provide.

Jonathan Wells
Contracts Manager, J&S Flooring Ltd

DISTRIBUTORS

As an independent distributor, it is beneficial and practical to work alongside a well-respected industry body like the CFA for both the marketing benefits and industry knowledge. We benefit greatly from regular industry updates sent to us and networking opportunities hosted, allowing us to keep up to date in the market. By being a CFA member, we are well supported within the industry and now have the opportunities to make ourselves heard, giving that added confidence which is extremely valuable to us.

Harry Watkins
General Manager, Floormart Ltd

We have been supplying the flooring industry for many years and have recently expanded our offering in this sector. Our CFA membership has played a pivotal role in the early stages of this journey, helping us to enhance our brand's visibility and demonstrate our commitment to high quality in the flooring industry. The CFA offers first class guidance and a fantastic opportunity to connect with other knowledgeable members of the association. We are proud to be members and ensure our distribution clients and the contractors that use our products are aware of our affiliation with the CFA and the quality standards that it upholds.

James Chambers
UK Flooring Manager, PERI Ltd

MANUFACTURERS

The CFA brings together a diverse group of professionals, from skilled installers and manufacturers to passionate suppliers and consultants. This professional community is united by a common goal: to elevate standards and drive progress in the flooring sector. Through a wealth of resources, training deployments, and networking opportunities, the CFA empowers its members to achieve improved standards within their business and their approach within the flooring industry as a whole.

Ross Dight
Technical & Sustainability Director (UK&I), Tarkett Ltd

CFA membership has a multitude of benefits and as a leading trade body the CFA supports its members to develop sustainable, highly productive businesses that supply and install commercial floor coverings. There is perpetual encouragement and support to develop workmanship and knowledge. The CFA logo is a seal of approval for clients and main contractors that recognises installer quality.

Allura Click Flexcore 63641 | light serene oak

NEW allura[®] click Flexcore

- High end design LVT with a flexible core and integrated underlay
- Use over poor, uneven or even sloped subfloors
- Adhesive free installation with Forbo's trusted "angle-down" click system
- Easy to handle and cut with a knife
- Install up to 1000m² without the need for expansion joints
- Ideal for heavy footfall areas
- 20 dB impact sound reduction
- 30% recycled content and fully recyclable

Flexible adhesive free LVT

Allura Click Flexcore combines the benefits of Forbo's Allura LVT with an integrated foam underlay, offering a more flexible solution that can bridge the gaps in poor, uneven or sloped subfloors, for a more forgiving fit.

Installations as large as 1000m² can be completed without the need for expansion joints using Allura Click Flexcore, which is easy to handle and can be cut by hand with a knife.

Made in Finland by Finnish Fibreboard with a construction that eliminates the core gaps and overlaps of plywood, there's no doubting that LION Floor™ is a high-quality and reliable replacement for BS 8203 plywood that's just as easy to install and more sustainable.

Rigorously tested with screeds, smoothing compounds and adhesives from major manufacturers, LION Floor is the first hardboard panel to be designed and manufactured specifically for the flooring industry.

It is also one of a very small number of fabricated underlays which can be used for LVT and other resilient floor coverings that meets British Standards and guidance.

The cheaper and lower carbon alternative to BS compliant plywood.

Suitable for all resilient floor installations, and compliant with BS 8203:2017, LION Floor is the first fabricated underlay designed for flooring.

Made in Finland, using by-product from local wood processing industries, LION Floor has a significantly lower global warming potential than European made plywood*.

Just as easy to use, readily available, strong and eliminating the core gaps and overlaps commonly found in plywood; LION Floor is the better way to a great installation.

*For every cubic metre of LION Boards produced (weighing 980kg), the Global Warming Potential (GWP) of LION Floor's lifecycle is -1,771kg CO₂, significantly less than European made particleboard at -618kg CO₂, or European made plywood at -888kg CO₂. Reported figures exclude transport and installation, product use and maintenance and product end of life. For more details, <https://manage.epdhub.com/>
